

GREEN and WHITE

Battle Hymn of the Indians

"STEPPING HIGH"

Side by side and stepping high,
We're gonna march right through the foe,
Shouting our battle cry,
Ready to do or die
As arm and arm along we go, rah, rah, rah.

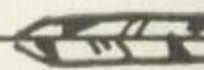

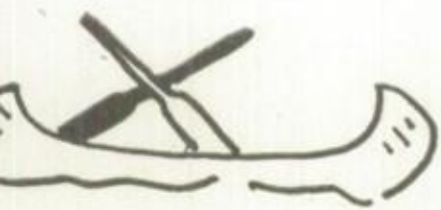

We will win the victory
If you will fite, fite, fite straight through.
We'll help you on with cheers of loyalty.
Come on and fite, we are right with you—rah!!

Class History

There were eight members of the 1957 graduating class enrolled in the 1944 kindergarten class. They were: Bob Clark, Pat Keillor, Jerry Kirsch, Judy Miller, Don Smith, Myra Smith, Betti Stair, and Lucy Weston.

In 1945 we had three new students. They were: Joan Briggs, Jim Empson and John Righter. The teacher was Mrs. Bigelow.

The second grade brought along only one new student. She was Jo Ann Tikal. Mrs. Dyer was our teacher.

Entering the third grade, Marcia Ison, Susan Dentler, Ralph Patterson, and Angie Minarik were new students. The class was taught by Mrs. Tennant.

In 1949 we added four new members to our class. They were: Ronnie Pleyer, Pat Prouty, and Margaret Traver. Miss Minnie Smith was the teacher.

The fifth grade had no new members enrolled in 1949. The teachers were Miss Marion McCoy and Miss Lois Rittase.

Miss Lois Rittase and Mrs. Lois Righter taught the sixth grade in 1950. Clara Broadhurst was the only new member.

Seventh grade brought along two new members. They were Don Davis and Kenny Russell. Mr. William Hamberger and Mrs. Lucille Cornwell were the teachers.

On entering the eighth grade, we were given the opportunity of choosing class officers and sponsors for the first time. Mr. William Hamberger was chosen to be our first sponsor. The first class officers were: President, Jerry Kirsch; Vice President, Ronnie Pleyer; Secretary, Pat Keillor; Treasurer, Bob Clark; and Student Council, Kenny Russell. Carol Coon was the only new student this year.

In 1953, the freshmen class began its high school career with twelve new members. They were: Caryl Amundsen, Bill Amundsen, Frank Balsis, Ed Carter, Carol Heppler, Dean Huddleston, Ardith Kraiger, Leslie Schmuhl, Sheron Seron, Cecil Wismer, Roman Grabowski, and Jerry Murray. Class officers were: President, Jerry Kirsch; Vice President, John Righter; Treasurer, Bob Clark; Secretary, Donna Comp; and Student Council, Kenny Russell. Mr. Leversee was the sponsor.

The Sophomore class in 1954 had only one new member enrolled. She was Barbara Hoffman. Sponsor was Mr. French. Officers were: President, Kenny Russell; Vice President, Frank Balsis; Treasurer, Donna Comp; Secretary, Joan Briggs; and Student Council, Judy Miller.

Junior class enrolled only one new student, Joann Allen. Sponsor was Mr. French. Officers were: President, Frank Balsis; Vice President, John Righter; Treasurer, Clara Broadhurst; Secretary, Pat Keillor; Student Council Representative, Judy Miller.

The new members entering the senior class were Josephine Capovilla, Lorraine Cox, and Ethel Stair Figg, who came back to finish the second semester. Sponsor was Mr. French. Officers: President, Kenny Russell; Vice President, John Righter; Treasurer, Pat Prouty; Secretary, Joan Briggs; and Student Council Representative, Judy Miller. In all, there will be forty students graduating on June 6, 1957.

Class Will

I, Joann Allen, hereby leave all my yellow excuses to Sally Tomsa.

I, Caryl Amundsen, hereby leave my school work done, and the high school where I've had so much fun.

I, William Amundsen, hereby leave my superior brains to my brother, Bob.

I, Frank Balsis, hereby leave my ability to play football to Gerry Krepp.

I, Joan Briggs, hereby leave all the fun I've had in high school to Sondra Smith.

I, Clara Broadhurst, hereby leave my co-editorship of the Shadow to anyone who has lots of time and energy.

I, Edward Carter, hereby leave my ability to get blue excuses to anyone who needs it.

I, Josephine Capovilla, hereby leave my friendly ways to those who need them.

I, Robert Clark, hereby leave—to join Carol Freeman.

I, Carol Coon, hereby leave my ability for getting blue excuses to David Munjoy.

I, Lorraine Cox, hereby leave my ability to eat candy in government class to anyone who needs a mid-afternoon snack.

I, Donald Davis, hereby leave my seat in physics class to Jerry Allen.

I, Susan Dentler, leave all the fun I've had screaming in Physics lab to any other girl who wants it.

I, James Empson, leave the Shakespeare part of English Lit. to anyone who wants it.

I, Ethel Stair Figg, hereby leave to all girls the desire to finish school before they decide to do anything else.

I, Roman Grabowski, hereby leave my seat in Mr. Collins' office to Wayne Carter.

I, Carol Heppler, hereby leave my shorthand book and all of its daily assignments to anyone who has the time to do them.

I, Barbara Hoffman, hereby leave all my school work, finished at last.

I, Von Dean Huddleston, hereby leave my intelligence to all the teachers.

I, Marcia Ison, hereby leave my cheering uniform to Lynne Poulter.

I, Patricia Keillor, hereby leave my title of "human iceberg" to Pat Bachman, who gave it to me as a nickname.

I, Gerald Kirsch, hereby leave my class ring to Lynne Poulter (to take care of), and to Vern Jensen I leave my No. 4.

I, Ardith Kraiger, hereby leave my seat in shorthand to Lynne Poulter, if she can stand it.

I, Judith Miller, hereby leave my reserved (?) seat on the fan bus to Georgia Cooper.

I, Angelyn Minarik, hereby leave my perfect attendance to Betty Fuller.

I, Jerry Murray, hereby leave my ability to get straight A's to Lynne Rademacher.

I, Ralph Patterson, hereby leave my No. 7 to Squirmin' Sherman, and to Jim Leonard my No. 11.

I, Ronald Pleyer, hereby leave school to my fellow D students.

I, Patricia Prouty, hereby leave to Pat Bachman by ability to get 1's in my classes.

I, John Righter, hereby leave my job as editor of the annual to anybody.

I, Kenneth Russell, hereby leave a shotgun for all E students to commit suicide.

I, Leslie Schmuhl, hereby leave my seat in Mr. Collins' office to Jerry Allen.

I, Sharon Seron, hereby leave my ability to sew in Home Ec to Pat Munro.

I, Donald Smith, hereby leave a promise to come back and take care of some "unfinished business" (guess who).

I, Myra Smith, hereby leave my job in the telephone office to Bonita Holder.

I, Betty Stair, hereby leave my shorthand book to anyone who has time to use one.

I, Jo Ann Tikal, hereby leave my place as drum majorette to Patty Munro.

I, Margaret Traver, hereby leave a warning to all girls to leave hands off Bob Everett.

I, Cecil Wismer, hereby leave my spot on the football team to anyone who wants the bruises.

I, Lucille Weston, hereby leave my long hair to Joanne Smith.

Class Prophecy

Jerry Murray, who retired at the old age of 18, is still trying to get a bill passed to lower the age requirement for Social Security, and in his spare time he comes back to old Hartford High to tease Mrs. Madaus.

Lorraine Cox owns her own dancing school and teaches her noisy papooses to rock and roll.

Dean Huddleston, after having a successful career in professional football, now owns the Lions.

Carol Heppler and her husband operate a big artists' studio in New York and in their spare time go fishing in Canada.

Roman Garbowski lives in a New York pent-house and is president of a million-dollar business.

Bill and Caryl Amundsen, after making an extensive tour of the U. S., are now appearing in Carnegie Hall playing an accordion duet.

Pat Prouty is now a registered nurse in Kalamazoo and in her spare time she just looks around.

Ronald Pleyer, after making the U. S. Navy his career, has just been made an admiral.

Myra Smith is now in New York, acting as secretary for the city's largest law firm and is engaged to a New York playwright.

JoAnn Tikal has just returned from California with her husband, Spike. They will make their home in Watervliet.

Josephine Capovilla, bless her little heart, has finally settled down, and is a very successful key-punch operator.

Cecil Wismer now has a big cattle ranch in Texas and sells his steers to the government.

Donald Smith now owns his own auto agency and body shop, and in his spare time he is producing a customized hot-rod for the President of the United States.

Ralph Patterson, all-time-great All-American end for Michigan State, is now owner of a nation-wide trucking agency.

Don Davis, after establishing a reputation as a dentist, is now doing research on fiberglass false teeth.

Jim Empson, after beginning at Hill Top Orchards, has branched out and formed his own nursery stock business.

Susan Dentler is teaching math and nuclear physics at Vassar.

Barbara Hoffman, after achieving her secret ambition of raising a football team, is now starting on her second.

John Righter is now on the USS United States, returning to Florida with his fleet of six super-charged Maseratis, hoping to take the field at Sebring.

Bob Clark is now a lieutenant of the Michigan Police Force and is very happy with his wife and five little Clarks.

Margaret Traver is now the owner of her own beauty salon and has created many new hair styles for the movie stars.

Leslie Schmuhl and his wife are busy taking care of their two little baton twirlers, who have just won the Junior and Senior World Championships.

Lucille Weston is now working as an airline stewardess while waiting for her fiance to finish his career in the Marine Corps.

Sheron Seron is now a leading hair stylist in the Paramount Studios near her husband, who is a famous actor.

Clara Broadhurst has increased the population of Hartford with her family of ten.

Ethel Stair Figg is now living in Kalamazoo with her husband and child, as a housewife and part-time secretary.

Joan Briggs has just finished her world-wide trip and is now settling down!

Pat Keillor, after ten years of study in the field of medicine at the University of Michigan, has gone to work with the United Nations as a foreign interpreter.

Carol Coon and her husband are now opening a new restaurant in Hong Kong, with which they are having much success.

Betti Stair is the secretary voted most likely to succeed, and she won the title sitting down.

Jerry Kirsch, who owns the Hartford Bowling Alley, is now looking forward to his sixth year as second baseman for the world champion White Sox.

Ken Russell, who was top scorer in professional basketball for three consecutive years, is now busily training his own basketball team of little Russells.

Judy Miller is now a famous model for Christian Dior in Paris.

Joann Allen is now the owner of a dude ranch in Texas, which she manages with the help of her husband.

Ardith Kraiger has more than enough for her basketball team with her three sets of twins.

Angelyn Minarik, while working for T.W.A., has met many famous people, some of them being Tab Hunter and Sal Mineo.

Marcia Ison, with her husband, is now managing the White Sox, who have just captured the American League pennant.

Frank Balsis, who was an all-star fullback at Michigan State and played in the Rose Bowl game, is now on the coaching staff at Michigan State.

Ed Carter now owns the largest pool hall in Hartford and in his spare time coaches his bowling team, the Red-Headed Giants.

Since the early 1940's, Hartford High School's Student Council has been the representative force organized to discuss problems involving school activities. It consists of the class presidents of the upper four grades, and one specially elected representative from each grade. Principal Arvon Collins is the adviser to the group.

The general duties of the council are to set the calendar of activities, such as the dates of all-school dances, bake sales, scrap drives, and junior and senior plays.

In the past school year of 1956-57, the council sponsored one high school dance, and the profits went into the council treasury. A decision was reached by the council members that fewer class meetings would be held and major class business would be taken up by officers and committee chairmen. Prices for Christmas gifts were decided upon, and a civil defense program was discussed.

"The Shadow," Hartford High School's monthly newspaper, is in its twenty-third year of publication. Mrs. Marie Darling, commercial teacher, and Riley Lunch, agriculture instructor, were co-sponsors of the first publication in 1934.

"The Shadow," with a staff made up of sophomores, juniors, and seniors, has won a Medalist rating the past three years and a first place rating the previous year, in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The publication is also a member of the Quill and Scroll, an international organization for high school journalists.

Band

There are 38 members in the band this year from grades 9-12. Its activities include marching at home football games and playing at pep meetings.

In a contest at White Pigeon, March 1, 1957, the band, under the direction of Mr. Edward Schewe, received a third-place rating in the division of Class "C" schools.

Two concerts were held during the year, in which the band participated: the Christmas concert on December 19, and the spring concert during May.

Vocal Groups

Under the direction of Miss Elaine Anderson, a Christmas program was presented December 19, in which the various vocal groups sang religious songs. Also, vocal groups took part in the spring concert which was held in May, in the high school auditorium.

The mixed chorus sang in the annual music festival in Kalamazoo, April 17.

Junior Prom

On May 12, 1956, the juniors and seniors from Hartford High School, and guests, attended the annual banquet and prom dance. Dinner was served in the Tropical Room at the Whitcomb Hotel. Turkey and the trimmings were at the top of the menu.

The theme, "Enchanted Evening," was enriched with the talented accordion playing of Pete Twarurcsck. The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Richard Rogers. Honored guests included Mr. and Mrs. Arvon Collins,

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walter, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogers. Don Smith and his orchestra supplied the music at the dance.

The room was decorated to resemble a cotton plantation, with many colorful flowers and moss-draped trees. A fish pond surrounded by potted flowers occupied one corner. In another corner stood a tall wishing well, which contained the punch served by sophomore girls.

White garden furniture and other mystifying creations filled the room with the whispers of an "Enchanted Evening."

"Me and My Shadow," a three-act farce comedy was presented in the high school gymnasium on November 16, 1956 by the Junior Class Mrs. Frieda Madaus directed.

The plot centered around a mysterious East Indian girl found on a railroad track by Roy Harrington, a young attorney. The girl, Shadow, declares Roy her master. Bruce Douglas, Roy's doctor-friend, Susan Fisher, the Harrington maid, and Mrs. Butler, a neighbor, made things more complicated. Arleen Harrington, Roy's wife, was out of town when the "festivities" began. Mrs. King, Arleen's mother, a weekend visitor, was of no help.

Sabu, an East Indian mystic, tried to kidnap

Shadow but got Mrs. King instead. Arleen returned unexpectedly and demanded many an explanation. During the thick of the trouble Mrs. King returned home with Sabu, who was captured by Sheriff Hickson, and everything turned out fine.

GREEN AND WHITE's 1957 staff desires its readers to receive as much pleasure in perusing the third consecutive edition as we have had in composing it. We sincerely hope that future classes will continue in the tradition of publishing a yearbook.

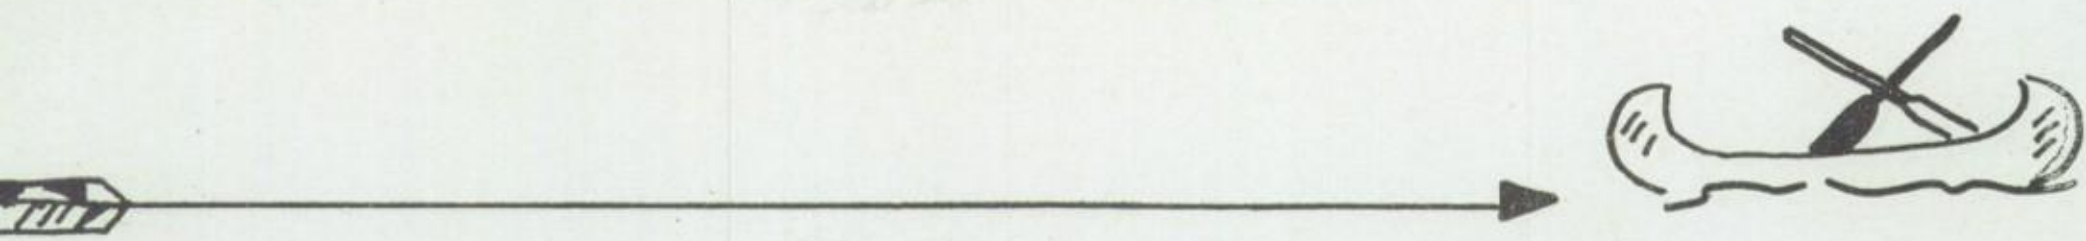

Through constructive criticisms and past experiences, we have endeavored to present you with a text that is a lasting memento of your school year.

Our thanks and appreciation go to our publishers, the Jack Sinclairs, for their invaluable advice and assistance in the preparation of this publication. To Mrs. Claire Olds, who willingly accepted the tremendous task of directing its compilation, we owe sincerest thanks.

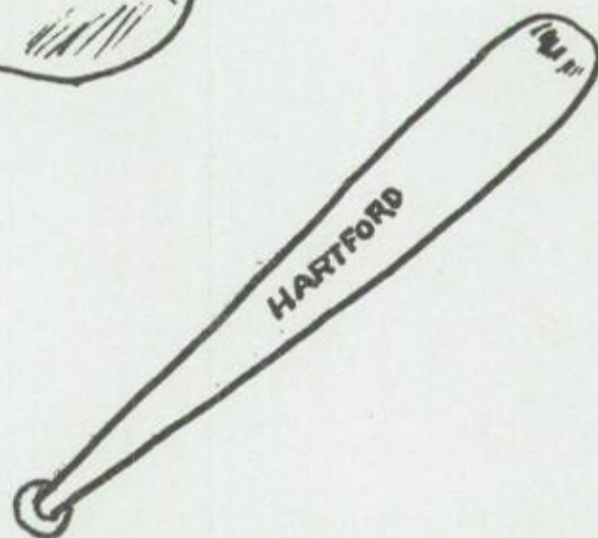

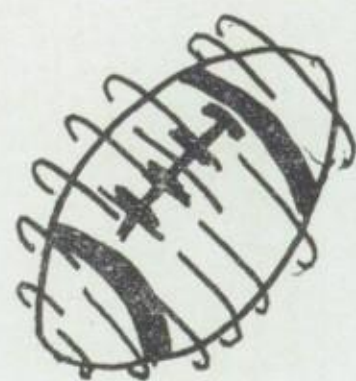

Without the support of our advertisers, this book could never have gone to print. We trust that they, too, may reap benefit from their loyal backing.

Football

It's rough, it's fast, it's the yelling and cheers;
It's GUTS and power, it's the pre-game fears;
It's passing and running, tackles and blocks;
It's sprains and bruises and bumps and knocks.
Practice all week, the coaches push.

"Run!" "Go!" "Fake!" "Rush!"

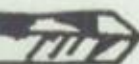

Run 'til you're tired, then run some more;
The team in condition is the team that'll score.
It's the fun and kidding in the shower room,
Gay when we've won; when we've lost—gloom.
There's Tuf-skin and tape, equipment all over,
There's that old, familiar perspiration odor.
It's running down the gridiron, turf flying from your heels.

It's freedom — — — how great it feels!

Football is touchdowns that give your heart
a glow;

Football's a hard game, but it's worth it—
you know.

Hartford's Indians compiled a record of 3 wins and 5 losses to tie records of 1952 and 1954. Under the new coaching of Robert Bada, the Indians developed a strong competitive spirit.

The Indians put out the most effort in the Berrien Springs game by holding them to 202 yards gained and 11 first downs. Although losing this game 8 to 0, the Indians outgained the Shamrocks on the ground, having 280 yards gained and 14 first downs.

Three men placed on the Little Eight All-Conference team. They were Dean Huddleston, Ralph Patterson and Frank Balsis, all seniors. Roland Hays, a junior, made honorable mention.

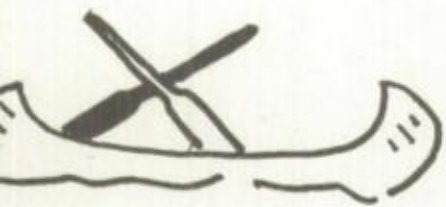

Six seniors, all lettermen, could be found in the lineup at almost any time: Dean Huddleston, Kenny Russell, Jerry Kirsch, Frank Balsis, Ralph Patterson and Cecil Wismer. The team suffered a great loss when quarterback Ron Pleyer received a broken collarbone in the second game of the season.

The 1956 individual scoring went as follows: Frank Balsis 19, Jerry Kirsch 18, Bob Everett 12, Jerry Krepp 6, Joe Walton 6, Kenny Russell 2, Ralph Patterson 1, and Dean Huddleston 1.

Hartford had a total of 65 points to their opponents' 106.

Basketball

The Crowd, its noise;
The team, its boys;
A certain buzzer;
The crowd is quiet.
Two refs on the floor
To keep order in store.
A whistle—a jump!
A dribble, a shot!
A whistle—all suddenly comes to a stop.
A point toward a player trying a slap.
So the refs called a foul for the little tap.
The crowd's in an uproar,
The noise is too great.
The refs holler for quiet,
But it turns into a riot.

This is in a Game of Basketball.
The ball's a'bouncing.
The team's getting a good trouncing.
A shot no good;
Rebound no good.
A grab for the ball;
It hits the wall.

This is in a Game of Basketball.
The coach in the corner,
Talking to his lads.
"Come on, gang, let's go;
You're running too slow."
The people are screaming
"We want a score!!"
"Push 'em out the window,
Kick 'em out the door!"
Come on team! We gotta
Score ! Score! Score!

This is in a Game of Basketball
A rally, we're scoring,
The game's no longer boring.
The people are screaming;
They want some more.
A score! We're ahead.
By-golly! The other team's dead.
All the way to the final gun,
The teams just run, run, run.

This is in a Game of Basketball.

— Ronnie Pleyer

By winning five games and losing ten, the Indians improved the previous season's record by one victory. The team was never out of a game that they lost until the last few minutes, which shows aggressiveness.

Throughout the season a greatly deterring factor was the number of fouls called. Hartford had 343 fouls to their opponents' 298, and Hartford made 245 points on free throws while the opponent teams were making 339. This was a crippling margin in many games. With more accuracy, several games could have been pulled out of the loss column.

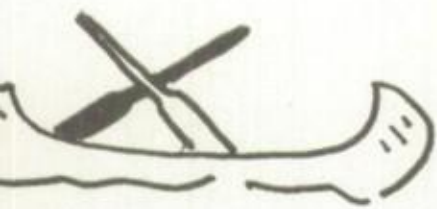

Individual scoring seemed to indicate more of a team effort than last season, with Ken Russell's 200 points leading the tribe's list. Ralph Patterson was next with 163, and the rest, in order, were: Jim Leonard—102, Jerry Kirsch—99, Ron Pleyer—94, Jerry Gelock—73, Roland Hays—53, Gerry Krepp—49, Vern Jensen—10, Dave Lightner and Frank Balsis—9, Don Smith—8, and Cecil Wismer—2.

Co-captains for the season were Ken Russell and Jerry Kirsch. In conference honors, Ken Russell received honorable mention.

All of the departing seniors would like to wish Mr. Hallgren and his teams of next year a completely successful season.

Six returning lettermen in baseball should make Hartford one of the toughest teams in the Little Eight in 1957. At the time of this writing, the infield is lining up with lettermen Frank Balsis returning to first base, Jerry Kirsch to second, Gerry Krepp at shortstop, and Ken Russell at third. Ronnie Pleyer will be the number one pitcher.

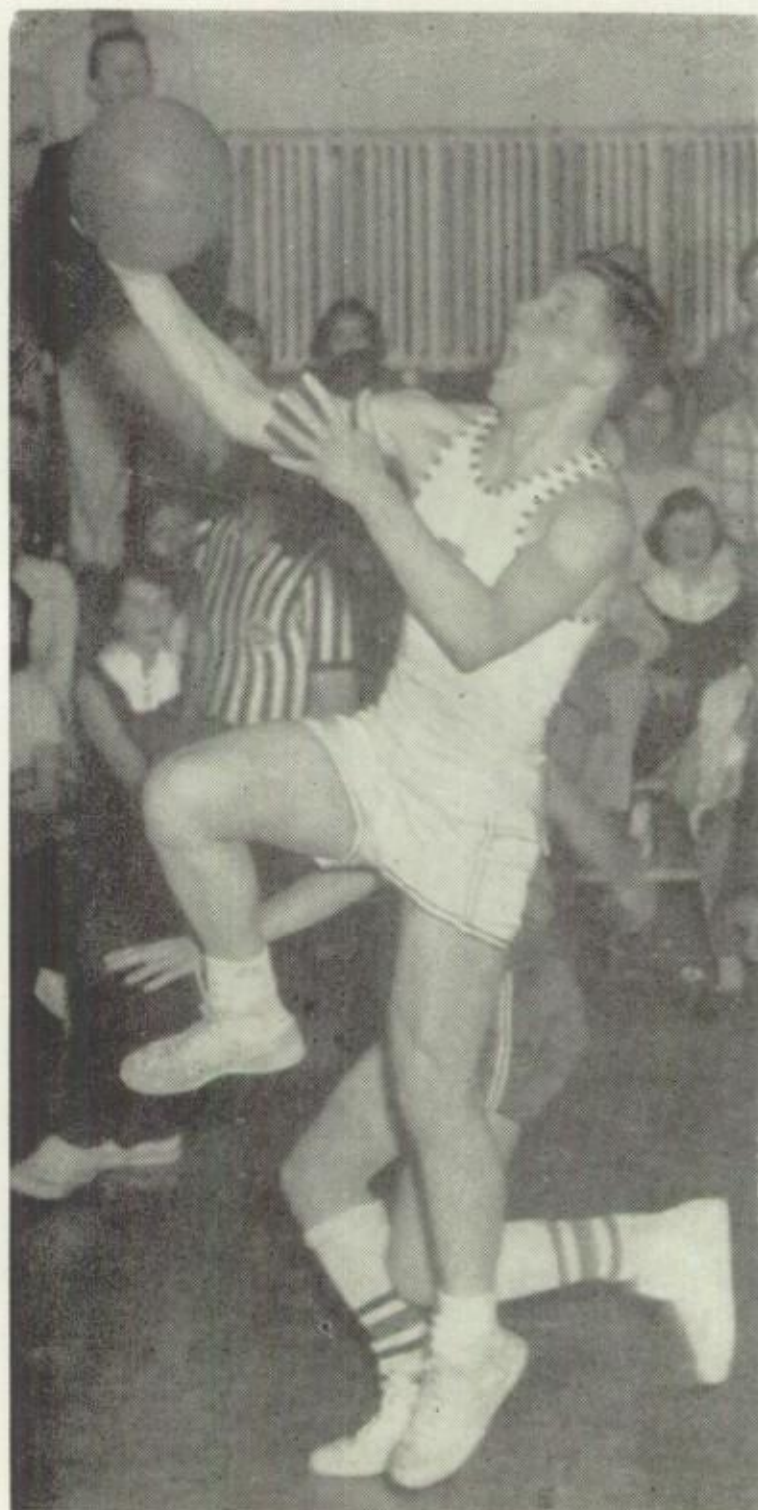

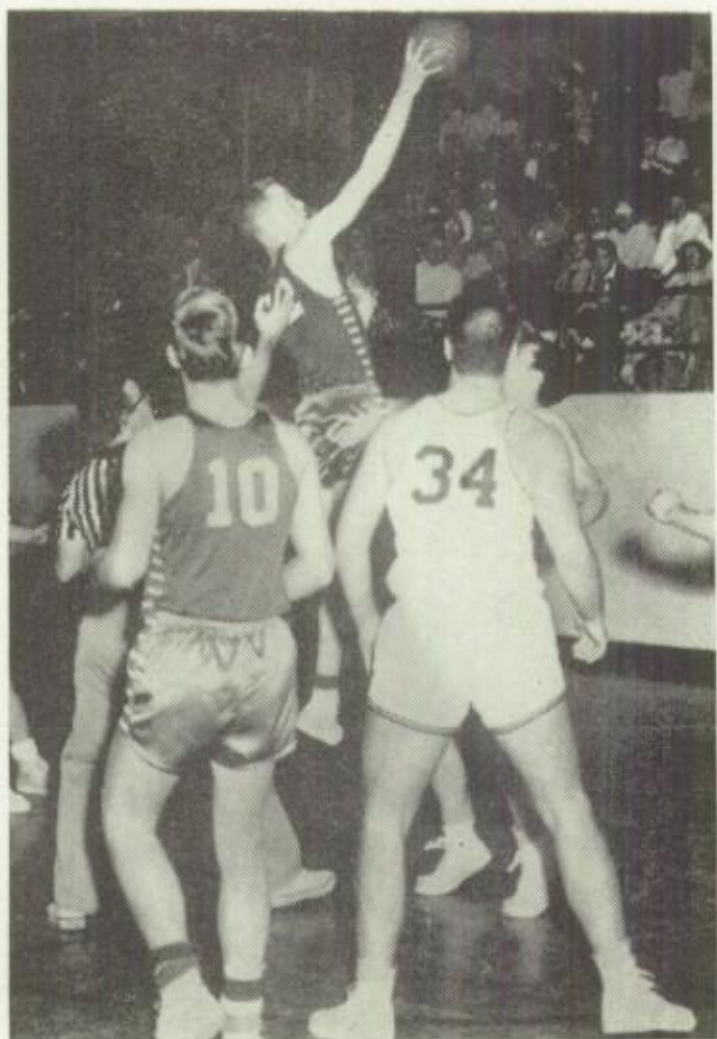

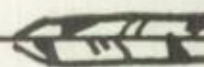

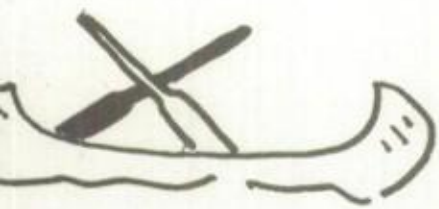

The outfield will probably be two strong reserves from last year, Vern Jensen and Cecil Wismer. Joe Cheshire is also a returning letterman and will be in the outfield.

Robert Clark, another letter winner of last year, is trying for catcher's position again this year.

Coach Charles Hampton hopes to improve the team's defense this year. Last year the Indians had a .330 batting average, which he feels needs little improving.
